army officers made every possible effort to suppress the liquor business. It seems that for many years this land was "no man's land," as up to 1849 it was part of Wisconsin and therefore was too far removed from the reach of authority for an enforcement of the law.

The first birth in the place was Basil Gervais, September, 1839; the first marriage was I. R. Clewett to Rose Perry, April, 1839; the first death was that of Sergeant John Hays, who was murdered September, 1839. His partner in locating land, Edward Phelan, was arrested and tried for the murder. While the evidence against him was very strong yet it was considered not conclusive; therefore he escaped punishment under the law but it is said remorse, like a Nemesis, followed him and he became a raving maniac.

In 1839 Bishop Loras of Dubuque sent Rev. Lucian Galtier of France to Mendota to open a mission there. On his arrival he found only a few houses, surrounded by a complete wilderness without any sign of fields under tillage and consequently he was greatly discouraged. He ascertained that some families from the Red River settlement had located along the right bank of the Mississippi opposite the fort. Unfortunately, he says, some soldiers now and then crossed the river to the houses of these settlers and returned intoxicated, sometimes remaining a day or more, consequently all their houses were torn down and the settlers were forced to look for new houses. Already a few parties had opened farms in that vicinity and he deemed it his duty to visit these families occasionally and he set to work to choose a suitable site for a church. Two farmers gave him the ground now used for a church site, a garden and a small graveyard.

In October, 1841, logs were prepared and a church was erected, "so you that it would remind one of the stable at Bethlehem," he says. "On November 1, 1841," Father Galtier says, "I blessed the new basilica and dedicated it to St. Paul, the apostle of nations. I expressed a wish at the same time that the settlement would be known by the same name and my desire was obtained. I had previously to this time been fixed at St. Peter's and as the name of Paul is generally connected with that of Peter, and the Gentiles being well represented by the Indians, I called it St. Paul." Doubtless this grand missionary, when dedicating this chapel and speaking to the motley group of heretics, felt like St. Paul, the apostle to the Gentiles, when he stood on Mars Hill and addressed the idolatrous people of Athens, charging them with "worshipping an unknown God, whom ye ignorantly worship, him declare I to you."

In Imperial Rome Christianity was imprisoned in the person of Paul but in the City of St. Paul it was set free through American toleration. Thus it appears that two great spirits were at war in St. Paul; while Father Galtier founded a church for the salvation of the souls of the men, the whiskey fiends erected chancel houses for the destruction of their bodies, souls and spirits. To Lucian Galtier must be accorded the honor of naming the great city, St. Paul. Here may very appropriately be quoted the following verse from "The Pioneer's" New Year address for 1850.

"Pier's Eye," the spot to plant a city on,
To be remembered by, when I am gone.
"Pier's Eye" converted then shall be like Saul, Thy name henceforth shall be St. Paul."

In 1844 the St. Paul Hotel, the first in the town, was opened. Between 1844 and 1849 mission services were held at intervals by the Presbyterians, Methodists and Baptists. In 1845 Mrs. Matilda Rumsey opened the first school in a log building. In 1846 a postoffice was established, with Henry Jackson as postmaster. Rolette and Fisher established a cart brigade between Pembina and St. Paul for carrying furs and merchandise. There was a great increase in trade and travel. In 1847 Miss Harriet E. Bishop of Vermont opened the first continuous day school in a log cabin and on July 25 she opened the first Sunday school. By some writers this is claimed to be the first Sunday school in Minnesota; but this is a mistake for the first Sunday school was opened by Mrs. Snelling and Mrs. Clark at Fort Snelling in May, 1828.

In 1847 a line of steamboats between Galena and Mendota was established. On account of the rapid growth of the town and the demands for lots, a site for a town, consisting of ninety acres, was laid out by Ira J. Brunson, surveyor. In 1848 the first temperance society in Minnesota was organized by the children in Miss Bishop's school. A writer says the period from 1840 to 1849 may be called the Arcadian days of Minnesota. The primitive, easy-going simplicity of the people, their changing their steady-going habits and plain manners into a maddening avaricious race for gold. In 1849 St. Paul began to emerge from a collection of whiskey shops, brick-roofed cabins of half-breed voyageurs, with here and there a frame house, and a mixed population of 250.

Territorial Epoch

On March 3, 1849, Congress erected the territory of Minnesota and designated St. Paul as the temporary capital. Alexander Ramsey of Pennsylvania was appointed governor and he arrived at St. Paul May 21, 1849. For some weeks he was the guest of H. H. Sibley and was daily rowed to the capital and back in a canoe by Indians. The news of the foundation of the territory electrified the people. As the grub comes from the larva, passes through the chrysalis and emerges a gorgeous gold-shield butterfly, so the City of St. Paul, after passing through a birth of shame and humiliation, has emerged as a reputable, glorious and magnificent city. As the news spread far and wide the influx of immigrants was marvelous. Every steamboat landing at the wharf was fully laden with newcomers and freight. Then the territory was little more than a wilderness; its entire population was not more than 1,000. The portion of territory west of the Mississippi was still unceded by the Indians. But notwithstanding these unfavorable circumstances the people were big with expectation and they proved equal to the building up of a great state.

Nine days after the news of the erection of the territory of Minnesota had been received at St. Paul, James M. Goodhue, a graduate of Amherst College and a lawyer, arrived at the town with a press, type and all the fixtures for a newspaper and on April 28, 1849, he issued "The Minnesota Pioneer," the first newspaper in the territory. This paper says, "This town, which was but yesterday unknown for the reason that it had no existence, is at the head of navigation and will supply the trade of the north and northwest." The first issue also says, "The Pioneer is printed in a building through which out-of-doors is visible by more than 500 apertures and the edition is annoyed by the hogs rooting under the office floor." Gen. Richard W. Johnson, in visiting Fort Snelling in 1849, called on Editor Goodhue and while conversing with him he observed a hen on her nest under the table and he says he ventured to ask him if he designed raising his own poultry. The editor replied that he "had taken all her eggs and the old fool is setting on a couple of brick bats and if she hatches out a brick-yard, you may bet your last dollar that she is not for sale."

There was preaching every Sunday by the ministers of five denominations who soon thereafter built churches. In November, 1849, the Presbyterians erected a church, the pastor was Rev. Ed. D. Neill. The Methodist and Baptist congregations built churches in the same year and the Episcopal church was built in 1850. The territorial census of 1849 shows a total population of 4,780, of which 840 were in St. Paul. On September 3, 1849, when the Legislature was in session, an unsuccessful effort was made to remove the capital. (This effort was renewed in 1851, '57, '69 and '72 but without success.)

On November 1, 1849, an act was passed incorporating St. Paul as a town, including several separate sections. On March 4, 1854, the town was incorporated as "The City of St. Paul" and some time afterwards West St. Paul, on the west side of the river, was annexed. Thus were the prophecy and wish of Father Galtier fulfilled. In 1851 Forbes and Kittson established a Cart Line between St. Paul and Pembina for carrying goods and furs; the first Concord Coach Line was established by Wiloughby and Powers between St. Paul and St. Anthony; a treaty was made with the Sioux, by which they ceded to the United States all their land on the west side of the Mississippi, 21,000,000 acres. Signed July 23 and ratified June 26, 1852, by the Senate.

In 1853 there was a skirmish between squads of Sioux and Chippewas in the streets of St. Paul which resulted in the murder of a Sioux squaw. Upwards of 30,000 immigrants came into Minnesota during 1855. In 1856 the rush of immigration and the fast habits induced by speculation created, for a time, a reign of crime and disorder, but this is an ordeal through which every new state must pass. During the summer of 1857 the immigration was immense and speculation in real estate was rampant but in August the principal bubble burst and in consequence thereof business was paralyzed and ruin stared all classed in the face. The territory was admitted as a sovereign state, May 11, 1858.

St Paul Under State Government

This magnificent and opulent city crowns seven hills and a wide undulating plain. The Mississippi river, with serpentine but graceful curves, flows through the city for a distance of sixteen miles. The river is arched by one railroad bridge and three high, airy, steel wagon structures. The area of the city, including both sides of the river, covers 55 square miles. The steamboat landing is 695 feet above the sea level. The land rises from the river in a series of terraces; the first terrace is more than a mile in width, is entirely covered with buildings and is somewhat higher than the landing. The second terrace, on both sides of the river, are 1010 feet above the sea level (which is about 100 feet lower than Bedford) and the plains average about 800 feet above. The summit of these second terraces are called bluffs (I call them palisades); they rise in perpendicular, white, rock-ribbed walls, which can be seen at a great distance. They were called by the Dakotas "Imniaska" (the place where the white rocks show). These terraces and the little valley through which the railroads have access into the centre of the city, were made by enormous icebergs which, in the Glacial Age, floated over the entire region and by attrition ploughed the entire valley, made smooth the white rocks and piled up the sand dunes. The famous Indian mounds in which the Sioux buried their dead, stand on Dayton's bluff and underneath is Carver's Cave, which they believed was the dwelling place of the Great Spirit.

St. Paul is the seat of Justice of Ramsey county and the capital of Minnesota. The city and county have erected a superb City Hall and Court House and the state has built a magnificent Capitol, without any graft, for $4,500,000; the United States has constructed three Federal Buildings—an Amy building for Department of Dakota, a new Post Office and have remodelled the old Post Office. All these public buildings are large, elegant and artistic and the same may be said of all the public, mercantile, financial and manufacturing buildings, church edifices and hospitals. The city comprises many separate additions made at different times and by different persons (fifty in 1851) and therefore the streets and avenues have little uniformity in width and direction.

E. S. Seymour, in his account of the city in 1849, says, "It is a regret that the edge of the bluff in the centre of the town was not left open to the public. The people seem to express a general wish that no buildings be erected on the margin of the bluff." In 1851 The Pioneer says, "The city map shows a confused maze of angles and crooks. Never was a city so badly laid out as St. Paul—the plot looks as if some accident had knocked all the streets into pl." It is very certain that the erection of the buildings on the river side of Summit Avenue esplanade has greatly marred the scenic outlook. It was a great mistake to close this most lovely and beautiful river panorama with palatial residences.

The railroads enter the city along the bluffs or through a narrow valley, which gives access to the highlands back of the city and forms the only break in the bluff on the north shore of the river.

The principal resident parts of the city occupy the palisades and the hill slopes on both sides of the river. Summit Avenue is the most noted thoroughfare in the city; it extends for three miles along the esplanade and circles around St. Anthony Hill to the river front, at whose base lies Pleasant Avenue. This avenue is lined on both sides with elegant, artistic and palatial mansions, with extensive yards, graced with choice flowers, shrubbery and stately trees, and is connected with beautiful parks and boulevards. It is wide and well paved. Many other streets and avenues are also covered with similar lovely and tasteful homes, surrounded with pretty yards.

The architecture of most of these buildings is exceptionally artistic and indicates that the occupants are possessed of great wealth with added intelligence and refinement. From

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturallyaverse, because of the harmful character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed in plain English, on every bottle. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, to all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free trial boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. Do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certain, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing, antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petroleum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but the numerous elevations, the high river bridges and especially from the Indian mounds, the lover of the beautiful and grand in nature may gaze with rapt admiration upon a wide and distant panorama of city, country, hills, valleys and forest, especially down and up the Father of Waters and through the Minnesota valley and river.

In most of these palatial mansions abide wealth and luxury, and perhaps the comforts money may bring if rightly used. But dotted all over the urban and suburban parts of the city and in Merriam and St. Anthony's parks are hundreds of neat, tasteful and comfortable homes with lovely little side yards, carpeted with fragrant flowers, and ornamented with beautiful vines. In these sweet homes dwell the humble and well-doing class who make no pretension to either wealth or style, but whose lives are replete with affection and happiness, and who have abiding "faith, hope and charity." These good and humble people are not cankered by the worry and unrest which great riches generally bring in their trail.

The business portion of the city is very compactly built up, but the streets are not so wide as in the residential parts.

The leading retail stores compare very favorably with those in eastern cities. There are a great many wholesale stores with very large and fine buildings and they do very extensive business in all lines, supplying some ten states in the northwest with merchandise. There are also a great many manufacturing establishments in the city, which do an immense business. The population of the city is 197,025.

There are 14 lakes within the city limits, the largest, Lake Phelan, being the chief source of the city's water supply. The city owns eight public parks, containing in the aggregate 1,225 acres. Lake Como, the largest park, contains 415 acres; Mondak park, the next largest, contains 75 acres. Merriam and St. Anthony's are not public parks but are names applied to large residential districts. These parks and the out-lying city districts are widely dotted with neat and comfortable homes.

The citizens of St. Paul are generally very liberal and beneficent in their contributions to all organizations for promoting the welfare, comfort and happiness of the people.

They support 174 churches, several hospitals, many lodges, a very flourishing state historical society, free libraries, art galleries, schools, academies and colleges and benevolent institutions of all kinds—in fact they help freely and cheerfully in all work for the uplifting and bettering of the conditions of the people. The large and comfortable City and County Hospital is under the charge of Dr. A. B. Aucher, a very able physician and surgeon, and his kind and affable wife who is a native of Pittsburgh, assisted by Miss Mary Edwards, a native of Bedford, as matron. She has upwards of 100 sick and infirm children under her care, and she is deservedly loved by all of them for her kindness and affection.

St. Paul claims to be the logical financial centre of the northwest, and as evidence of that fact a table of the business transacted in 1906 in all lines has been published. As the population is somewhat less than in Minneapolis so the amount of business is proportionately lower. The city claims to have 54 schools, 13 colleges, three libraries, 174 churches, four theatres, a splendid auditorium, eight hospitals and 736 manufacturing establishments. The state university has over 4,000 students, male and female.

Household Helps

A simple and inexpensive but very effective covering for an iron or brass bed is made by buying a pair of ruffled muslin curtains and joining them together with lace insertion, having the ruffled edges fall over the sides and end of the bed. Now make a cambric cover of any color you like and place under the muslin one will remove egg stains from silver, or tea stains from china dishes.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

DEBILITY.

Many people who talk to me say: "I feel half sick all the time. I don't just know what's the matter with me." This is general debility. It's very common. People who get in this shape have my sympathy. They aren't sick enough for bed so they drag around and their families get exasperated with them.

There are two causes for this condition; bad habits and a weak stomach. By bad habits I mean eating irregularly and too fast and not chewing the food thoroughly. The stomach gives out and loss of appetite, biliousness, constipation, and general debility result. First get the stomach in shape and then be more careful in the future, and the worn out, despondent, half sick feeling will be a thing of the past.

Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape. Common sense will do the rest. There are fifty thousand people in this country who know this to be true because they've tried it.

Here's a letter from one of them: "I was all run down from overwork, lost ambition and energy and could not sleep. It was difficult for me to attend to my work owing to that tired feeling. I secured two bottles of the New Discovery medicine and determined to try it. The result delighted me for renewed strength and vigor and energy came with the first few doses. It's effect was different from anything I had ever taken. I finished the two bottles now and feel well and strong again." E. McDade, 839 Dix Ave., Detroit, Mich.

We hear favorable reports of these famous medicines every day. Ask us about them.

BEDFORD IN YE OLDEN TIME

Complete Text of Two Lectures Delivered by

DR. CHARLES N. HICKOK

In the Court House at Bedford, February 23 and March 19, 1886, and Printed in Full

In these old grave yards—"the church burial place," as the Penn grant terms it, on Penn street, and that designated by the same grant as "a burial ground for the Calvinists and Lutherans of the town," lay many of the pioneers of Bedford. In the old "Church" yard, from which the remains of the dead were removed, in 1863, to the cemetery, lay for many years the remains of Judges Dougherty and Scott with their families, Col. Terrence Campbell—brother of Martha I think—Mr. Heyden and many others. In removing the dead, a number of remains were found with bullet holes in the skulls, one with the bullet inside, and some with tomahawk cuts showing how they died; also some valuable antique jewelry. In the Presbyterian grave yard, as it is now known, lie the Woodses, the Espys, the Davidsons, the Moores, the Campbells, the Andersons, Thomas McGaughey, one of the first sheriffs; the Reynolds, the Funks, Judge Tod and wife and a host of other early names of the locality, and near by is the private burial place of Capt. Hugh Barclay and his descendants.

Another grave in the old yard has interesting associations. It is that, as the epitaph reads, of "Col. Levin Powell of Virginia," who died in the Reynolds hotel, now Col. Hafer's, in 1810, while here for his health. The late Hon. James Russell was with him the night he died and acted as a friend to see to his burial.

Unpremeditated sayings of great men sometimes strike the popular ear and become a heritage to the world forever, such as Washington Irving's "almighty dollar;" General Grant's "let us have peace;" Judge Black's "justice travels with a leaden heel but she strikes with an iron hand." Washington was the author of the phrase "principles, not men," and this is how it happened. Colonel Powell and Washington were in the same Congressional district and of the same political party, but they were not on amicable terms. This was after Washington left the presidential chair. Powell was running for Congress. As General Washington alighted from his horse, handed his bridle to his groom, and walked up to the polls to announce his vote and have it recorded as was the then custom in Virginia, the crowd, curious to know how he would vote under the circumstances, followed him. Washington observing this and divining the reason exclaimed, in words that have passed into a proverb, "Gentlemen I vote for principles, not men," and then directed the clerk to record his vote for Col. Levin Powell. Colonel Powell was the father of Commodore Powell, who has often visited the Springs.

The old stone reservoir on Gravel Hill was built about 1820-22 and the wooden pipes therefrom supplied two hydrants, also a running pump between the Washington and the Riley house. Gov. John Penn gave the springs to the town, as also the limestone spring and school grounds at the foot of Thomas street. Wonder has often been expressed why John Penn, as a Quaker, left no ground for that sect in the town when it was laid out. I know not why, but this I know. William Penn was a Quaker. His grandson, Gov. John Penn, was an Episcopalian and a member of the old Christ church, Philadelphia. His tomb is in front of the chancel in that church, to the left of the centre aisle, and not ten feet from the pews of President Washington and Dr. Franklin.

The question has often been asked why is the east end of the town called "Mud Town," and the west end called "Texas"? I'll tell you. Before the turnpike was made in 1816, the old provincial road from the east crossed Dunning's creek just where it does now and came up through Funk's farm, late Chenoweth's (it is the same old road) and entered town over a bridge where is now the fording west of G. M. Anderson's. When the frosts came out of the ground in the spring the spouty surface between the bridge and Rush's alley was almost impassable and it was the custom of wagoners to "double-team," as it was termed; that is take the teams from two or three wagons and attach them to one and drag is over the deep mire, then return to bring another up, and so on, until they had mutually helped all beyond the slough. This is the origin of the name.

Now as to Texas. During the years in which the various tragic events were transpiring in Texas, which culminated in its admission into the union in 1845, there lived two daughters of Eve, in West Pitt street, not over samtly in disposition, and decidedly Amazon-like in their "git up," who for unexplained reasons were in constant antagonism. It is Washington Irving who remarks, in speaking of the conversational accomplishments of Mistress Van Winkle, that "a tart temper rarely mellows with age, and a sharp tongue is the only edged-tool that grows keener by constant use." The unruly members of the daughters aforesaid proved the truth of Diedrich Knickerbocker's axiom, and hence they kept the neighborhood in such perpetual turmoil that it became a customary diversion of the boys to rendezvous in West Pitt street to witness the forensic skill of these heroines, or, as the boys expressed it, "to hear them cussing at mark." On some occasions they came to blows; or rather scratchings and hair pullings. Finally as news came, from time to time, from the Mexican frontier, of tragic scenes like that of the Alamo and others, the youngsters, reasoning from analogy, as boys will, associated the then familiar term "Texan Rangers," with the dove eyed belligerents of the west end, and, finally, the locality became "Texas," and "remaineth so to this day," not one in a hundred of our present population dreaming of the "cause why."

Ladies and Gentlemen:—I have exhausted the evening and I fear your patience; and yet my subject is not half exhausted. Many subjects—the whiskey insurrection, Washington's visits, old houses of entertainment, the individuals and characters of years ago, the origin of the several religious bodies, and a dozen other topics are untouched for want of time. If a lecture on these shall be desired, as I am

OUR DEPARTED SOLDIERS

Eight hundred seventy three of those who bared their breasts and proudly marched to the battle's front in our country's hour of need are now sleeping the sleep that is not disturbed by the bugle's call within the confines of our country. We owe to those who endured, for their country's sake, the hardships of war a debt of gratitude that never can be paid, but we can perpetuate their names and do honor to their memories by keeping fresh the record of their deeds and annually decking the hallowed earth under which they lie with beautiful flowers.

Those of us who see the great civil strife only through the pages of history can hardly fully appreciate what it meant to don the blue or the gray and wear it through four long years of the bloodiest of the wars of history.

Let no man refuse, who appreciates American liberties, to join in the great movement to annually decorate the graves of all soldiers.

TO TEST 2-CENT RATE

The Dunsmore 2-cent mileage law passed by the last Legislature fixes a penalty of $1,000 for charges of more than two cents a mile, which fine is to be paid to the county in which the overcharge is made.

While the law does not go into effect till next October, the Pennsylvania railroad, not desirous of taking any chances, has put in motion the machinery that will bring the new law before the Supreme Court and test its constitutionality.

The railroad company has asked for an injunction to prevent the County of Philadelphia from instituting suit to recover the fine. It is held by some of the papers that this move is being made by the company to use the time between this and the first of October to test the constitutionality. A law of the importance of this rate law seldom escapes being passed upon by the Supreme Court.

If the law is not constitutional in Pennsylvania or in any way conflicts with the national constitution it will save complications to have the test made before the date on which the law will become operative. It will go up to the Court, and according to the law of gravity it will come down, but whether dead or alive it would be useless to predict at this time.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE

Will Convene at Capital June 13 to Decide on Convention.

Harrisburg, May 22.—Charles P. Donnelly, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, today issued a call for a meeting of the committee at Harrisburg on June 13 to select the time and place for the convention for the nomination of a candidate for State Treasurer. The call was issued after the State Executive Committee had been advised of the action of Governor Stuart in signing the bill repealing the clause in the uniform primary election act which required state conventions to be held within one week of the June primaries. The convention will probably not be held until late in August, by which time the Capitol Investigation Commission will have made its final report to Governor Stuart.

LITERATURE

The Veil of Separation

"Ah sir, there are times in the history of men and nations when they stand so near the veil that separates mortals from immortals, time from eternity, and men from their God, that they can almost hear the breathings and feel the pulsations of the heart of the Infinite. Through such a time has this Nation gone, and when two hundred and fifty thousand brave spirits passed from the field of honor through that thin veil to the presence of God, and when at last its parting folds admitted the martyred President to the dead heroes of the Republic, the Nation stood so near the veil that the whistlings of God were heard by the children of men."—James A. Garfield.

REUNITED

We'll scatter sweet flowers of May,
To brighten each patriot's grave;
Alike o'er the blue and the gray,
The flag of our Union shall wave.

The living have fought side by side,
Together have vanquished the foe;
And one they will ever abide,
And truer and stronger grow.

We'll garland the graves of our dead,
And to our loved country be true,
For the flag that to every victory led
Was borne by the gray and the blue.

Now, as reunited we stand,
Our warm tears bedewing the sod;
We'll commit the dear, silent band
To the love and the peace of our God.

SOLDIERS ASLEEP

The voice of the wind as it passes
Makes musical hum.

But hark! through the rustle of grasses

The beat of the drum—
A sob and a low voice that trembles,
A down-drooping head,
The morning of Maytime dissembles,
We meet by the dead.

But all are as one in their ending,
No sound of the strife
Comes up from the dust that is blending

To fashion the life
Of grasses and sweet-scented briars,
And deep-tinted blooms
That turn out their delicate fires
By numberless tombs.

The maiden who mourns for her lover

Or friend for his friend
Learns here that the battles are over;

That this is the end
And mothers who met in their weeping,

With quivering mouth
Ask not if their sons that are sleeping
Came Northward or South.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY G. A. R.

Suggest Changing the Date of Memorial Day.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by Maj. William Watson Post 322, G. A. R., of Bedford at its last regular meeting on Tuesday, May 14, 1907:

Whereas, Many thoughtful, frivolous people seem to misunderstand the object and purpose of Memorial Day and instead of observing it in a reverent spirit, honoring the dead who made possible the security, peace and prosperity of the present generation, convert it into a fete day of hilarity and excesses, with races, money making games and other amusements, thereby giving offense to the surviving veterans and their families and exercising a pernicious influence upon the rising generation. Therefore be it

Resolved, That Maj. William Watson Post No. 322 send to the next state encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania G. A. R. a petition praying that the department organization use its influence to change the date of Memorial Day from May thirtieth to the second Sunday in June.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Department Commander with the request that action be taken in this matter, and

Resolved, That the above resolution be given to three county papers in Bedford for publication.

Enlarged, improved and perfected, traveling by its own special train of monster railway cars, the famous John H. Sparks Shows will exhibit at Bedford, Tuesday, May 28, afternoon and night.

Mr. Sparks promises to surprise and delight his old friends and patrons with the great additions that he has made, and the wonderful new features that he has secured for the present season. That he has expended a fortune and doubled his daily expenses will be plainly seen when his new train of monster cars rolls into town. These cars have been especially built for him, and are larger and of greater capacity than any others that ever were built. They are especially designed to carry the immense quantity of new and costly paraphernalia which has been secured to make this exhibition superior to all others of the kind.

William W. Barkley, B. D., formerly of Imler, who was graduated from the Lutheran Theological Seminary last week, has accepted a call to a St. Louis church and has entered upon his work. Rev. Barkley was one of the three members of his class who had the degree Bachelor of Divinity conferred upon them, and was also one of the four commencement speakers. He has the best wishes of The Gazette for success in the field in which he is well qualified to labor.

The funeral services were held in the Progressive Brethren church at New Enterprise, of which he was a member, Friday morning, May 10, and were largely attended. The service was conducted by his pastor who preached a very able sermon taking for his text, "He fell asleep." Acts 7: 60. Interment was made in the Union cemetery near New Enterprise. The pall bearers were his six nephews: Clarence, Oscar, Blair and Elmer Snyder, of New Enterprise, Clarence Guyer and Mr. Teeter of Altoona.

It is so hard to give him up,
But peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low;

Thou no more will join our number.

Thou no more our songs will know,
Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled;
And in Heaven with joy to greet thee,

Where no farewell tears are shed.
A Friend.

Killed by Fall

Orville Fay Imler, employed by the Pittsburg Construction Company at Altoona, met with a fatal accident Monday, May 20, at the Twelfth street shops, plunging downward to his death as his helpless fellow workmen and a number of people on the Twelfth street bridge stood horror-stricken as the young life was being crushed out.

HARRISBURG LETTER

soled for its disappointment is not getting the State Police force doubled by this expedient. Of course the amount of money expressed in the clause of the appropriation bill would not maintain a very large force. But $75,000 judiciously expended will achieve important results in politics and it is economical for party managers to make the public pay the wages of their campaign workers. That has always been a favorite expedient of the machine of this state. As Dave Lane of Philadelphia once said in a speech instructing the officeholders of that city with respect to their duty on election day, each beneficiary of the machine must poll five votes besides his own in the city that meant ballot box stuffing to that extent. In the country it simply means that each man shall prevail on Democratic friends or relatives to vote the ticket of the machine in order that he may continue on the pay roll.

An Expensive Luxury

The Forestry Department is an expensive luxury in other directions. There is an item of $20,000 for Foresters and $30,000 for laborers, besides $10,000 for surveys, $3,000 for draughtsmen, $6,000 for special examinations "to promote the development of forestry," and $3,500 for traveling expenses of the commissioners. There are a lot of other items of various proportions from one to ten thousand sufficient to put the aggregate up to $181,000. But it is possible that the department will produce good results. In fact the only complaint against it is that it is prodigally conducted and that fault will endure until there is a complete change in the politics of the state administration.

I might go on with this subject to the full limit of my space but what's the use. Of course everything is expensive and during the last half dozen years of the unrestrained machine control the paramount purpose of legislation was to create new money. Pennypacker took delight beyond measure in spending other people's money, and being absolutely without moral sense or understanding he found infinite pleasure in obeying the orders of Durham and Martin to supply offices for the boys who tolled not, neither did they spin but parade the streets in fine raiment. Every movement for new offices had his cordial support and encouragement. It pleased the bosses and they flattered him.

It is worth while, however, in dismissing this subject from consideration to refer to the comparative cost of the work of the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds in 1893 and now. Then the appropriation was $13,600 and it seemed ample for all purposes. This year it is nearly a million dollars and some of the items which were then paid by the board are now charged to other departments. This shows the evil effect of putting an incompetent man into a place which requires mature judgment. Pennypacker is either a fool or a knave. If he didn't know enough to prevent the profligacy he is a fool. If he knew and permitted the spoliation he is a knave. In either event he should be compelled to make restitution.

High Pressure Legislation

The Legislature began with splendid promise for reform and ended with little in that respect achieved. If Governor Stuart had not asserted himself at critical points not a single item of reform legislation would have been enacted. After watching the work closely during the four and a half months which have intervened since the beginning of the session, it is not unjust to say that so far as the heart of the majority is concerned there is no perceptible difference between this session and the last. The only difference is assumed.

In some respects, in fact, this Legislature was inferior to its predecessors. That is to say it showed a spirit of narrow partisanship that had not existed in any previous legislature. For example in other legislatures it didn't matter much who introduced non-partisan legislation if it had merit. This year, however, there seemed to have been adopted in the beginning an unwritten rule that no important legislation introduced by a Democrat should get through. For that reason the trolley freight and two-cent a mile rate bills introduced by Mr. Cressy were defeated and measures less meritorious presented by a Republican substituted. That was baby business.

The Dunsmore Railroad Commission bill was so maculated in the Senate Committee that it was practically worthless and for that reason it was permitted to pass. But Cressy's bill to make express companies bear a just share of the burdens of taxation was defeated. The "Farmer" is probably disappointed by this result, for one of his hobbies is equalization of taxes and this principle is particularly outraged by the immunity from taxes enjoyed by the express companies. They do about $40,000,000 worth of business in the state and pay less than one-tenth of a mill in taxes on that amount. They have all kinds of property in the state upon which they pay no taxes.

Work of the Graft Probers

S. Marshall Williams, who confessed the other day that he had been paid $10,000 for not telling what he knew about the capitol graft during the campaign last fall, has mysteriously disappeared and will probably not be available as a witness for further investigation. The probers will get along very well without him, however. They have been authorized to continue the investigation and will resume the public hearings immediately. During last week some very important leads were discovered and the result of the inquiry is no longer problematical. Criminal prosecution is certain to follow and prison sentences are inevitable. G. COMING TO BEDFORD

M. P. Heckerman Finds "Old Home Week" Visitors.

Oxford, N. C., May 18, 1907. This is a beautiful town of three thousand; it lies high and dry, drains itself nicely and to me is a very healthy place. Yesterday I was at Henderson, N. C., and near there I saw men making clover hay, think of it, and it was hot, oh! so hot that I was not a bit sorry that I had sent my overcoat home. I also saw sixty men, women, boys and girls in one gang, all down on their knees, not praying, but picking strawberries; I saw many gangs of a dozen or more but this was the largest one. These people are today paid two cents a basket for picking them. I also saw many acres of cabbage that looked as if it were ready for the slaw cutter and in some places I saw them gathering and crating it for you home folks. I saw a solid train load of fruit all in baskets, go north yesterday while at Henderson. With all the strawberries hereabouts they sell at 20c a basket here on the grounds.

I was at Norfolk a few days ago and accompanied by W. C. Smith, formerly of Bedford, went out to the Exposition. I said to him that it was a shame to take "de mon." I was very much disappointed. I saw in the grounds principally hammers, saws, shovels, picks and men using the same. I dare say that there were thousands of men at work, doing all they could to finish and fix up the buildings, the grounds and the booths for exhibits. I'll venture to say that there were not over a dozen booths fixed up in the art building. The walks were rough and the exposition opened just 60 days too soon.

W. C. Smith, with his splendid wife, who was a Miss Zimmers of Bedford township and whose father always rested by standing, like a goose, on one leg, (guess his name) with their three children will be at Bedford for Old Home Week. So will Miss Dossa Zimmers, another of Aaron's girls; by the way, they say that those bright black eyes and her hair, which she arranges so artistically, have made many southern hearts flutter as she passed by. Miss Dossa will start north about June 10 so as to be sure of being there on time. Dr. F. D. Ernest, an old Bedford boy, will likely cut a shine on Bedford streets at that time. Newport News will send Will Williamson to represent its ship yards, the largest in the country, at Bedford's Old Home Week.

W. C. Smith came down to Norfolk about eight years ago and began to sell shoes that fit the feet. He has been eminently successful and today is one of the leading shoe men of Portsmouth, Va. His store is at 300 High street. Mr. Williamson thought if his playmate of the brick house could make money so fast in working with feet that he would try the last himself and singular to say but few leave his handsome shoe store on Washington street, Newport News, with as much cash as they had when entering. Mr. Smith has formed a World's Fair Rooming Corporation, with two thousand choice rooms to let to your many readers who may want to visit the Jamestown Exposition. They rent you a nice room in a private family for from fifty cents to two dollars a day; will also sell you meal tickets, saving you considerable, and I advise all those of you who intend visiting the Exposition to write Mr. Smith at 300 High St., Portsmouth, for rooms. He will personally see that all Bedford county persons are comfortably roomed, and he will save you lots of "dough."

At one place in the grounds where they have five thousand rooms under one roof they had the gall to charge a friend fifteen dollars a day for three meals and a bed to sleep on. So beware, better save your money and spend it at home during Old Home Week. M. P. Heckerman.

DUNNING'S CREEK PROSPECTING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY.

The stockholders of the Bedford County Prospecting and Developing Company met in the Band Hall last Saturday afternoon and evening, May 18, and adopted a constitution and by-laws. The name was changed to The Dunning's Creek Prospecting and Developing Company, Limited; capital stock $6,000. Main office will be located at St. Clairsville. This was done so that the name would not conflict with a company of a similar name to get a charter for.

Saturday, June 1, at 9:30 a. m., all stockholders are requested to meet in the Band Hall and elect, permanently, nine directors and three auditors. In the evening the Directors will meet and elect a President, Secretary and Treasurer. The Treasurer will immediately file his bond with the Secretary. One-half of subscription to be paid June 1, one-half by July 1. Certificates of stock have been procured and will be issued with the seal of the company to all subscribers as soon as subscription has been paid. A receipt will be issued by the Secretary for all moneys received. The office of Secretary was made Secretary and General Manager.

A reserve fund of 20,000 shares will be held by the Directors and not floated unless they deem it advisable. There are still 15,000 shares of first allotment for sale, which will go out, from present indications, not later than June 10-15. Please send applications at once to Secretary or one of our authorized agents.

The Sparks Show

The managers of John H. Sparks Shows claim that they have the highest class, cleanest and best exhibition of the kind traveling. Twenty years of experience, with ample capital and intelligent management have combined to produce this result. That their claims are well founded seems to be proven by the following extracts from late newspapers:

"The Barnesville Enterprise says: 'Great crowds hugely enjoyed the two performances given by the Sparks Shows last Monday. The show has had quite a growth since it was here before, and it is generally agreed that it is the best exhibition of the kind that ever came to Barnesville.'"

The Hillsboro, Ohio, News-Herald says: "To say that the show was up to the usual Sparks standard would alone be a strong recommendation, but was really better than ever before. They have a 'square deal' reputation here, and the crowds that tested the capacity of the tents is the best possible evidence that the people of this vicinity know a good thing when they see it."

If more were necessary, we have hundreds in a similar strain from every section of the United States.

The John H. Sparks Shows will exhibit at Bedford, Tuesday, May 28, and no one should miss this opportunity of seeing this famous show.

could have seen the honor with which our government and the best society everywhere received their countrymen, they might have learned a valuable lesson. The day before the departure of the battleships, the commanders gave a return reception; the invitations were extended to all who wished to go; it lasted from early morn till late in the evening. Besides the music and dancing, the entertainment provided a continuous feast from start to finish; the tables were spread in the cabin, and you could call for whatever you pleased. It was a great day and the battleships departed with many "God Speeds," and in a blaze of glory.

It was a terrible blow to Abe Hummel, the Tomba lawyer, when he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment on Blackwell's Island. His former partner, Mr. Howe, died a few years ago, when Hummel took the business; their specialty was with the worst class of criminals; they know more thieves and bad characters than all the other legal firms put together. The case that brought Hummel to justice was a plot to procure a divorce for a rich man who wanted to cast off a good and virtuous wife and marry another woman. Hummel undertook the job; he forged the necessary papers and attempted to blast an honest woman's character by the rankest perjury, but was detected in the conspiracy, and, on his conviction was sentenced to imprisonment.

A shocking case of the failure of Christian Science came before our Criminal Court last week. A man who had been indicted, admitted that he had lost his wife and ten children under the Christian Science treatment and yet believed in it still. One of the most villainous features in this monster's case was the avoidance of the law, which compels people having charge of the sick to provide proper medical attendance. To ward off punishment, he sent for the doctor, took his prescription, threw it in the fireplace, and then knelt down by the bed and prayed, when he got up the child was dying and in a few hours breathed her last. This child was the last of ten, but still he declares he believes in Christian Science treatments. Is he not insane? Broadbrim.

The alumni banquet of Juniata Classis was held at the Corle House last Friday evening after the meeting in the Reformed church. About 75 ministers, elders of the Classis and friends from Bedford and neighboring towns enjoyed the excellent menu. The occasion was a most pleasant one.

Warning to Farmers

Farmers are warned against a set of swindlers going through the country selling barbed wire fencing. They offer a good eight-wire fence, with iron posts, for eight cents a foot, and secure a contract that turns out to mean eight cents a foot for each wire, or a total of 64 cents a foot.

John Geller, who has been very ill for several weeks, is improving slowly under the treatment of Dr. Brant.

The small child of Mr. and Mrs. John Fritz, who had been very sick, is getting better. Dr. Brant is in attendance.

Willis Knaeval, formerly of Windber, now of California, Pa., spent several days with friends in our town.

The road plow or grader is doing fine work. There is some kicking as there always is when a good thing happens along but those who are doing the loudest kicking now will be the most enthusiastic when they know the good it will do when properly used.

Next Tuesday—Sparks' show.

Point

May 22.—Our old friend and neighbor, R. C. Smith, passed his 63rd milestone in life on Friday last, May 10, and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. George C. Claycomb and daughter, of Oppenheim; Mr. and Mrs. Manford Beckley, son and daughter, of Schellsburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fetter, son and daughter, of Osterburg; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wenders and daughter, of Bethel; Capt. William H. Leffingwell of Washington, D. C., and Miss Kate Worrell of Point. They all had a pleasant time and hope for many more such returns.

Henderson Souser has the carpenters at work framing barn lumber and masons putting up the wall for his barn.

Sherran Smith has the wall up for a new dwelling house on his property, which will greatly add to its appearance.

William H. Feight and sons, John and Bernard, paid us a flying call on Tuesday. Will seems to be a good bit taller and steps higher now, all on account of a fine young daughter coming to his place Sunday night. Miss Della Yarnell accompanied him home to help take care of the new girl.

Next Tuesday's show comes to Bedford highly recommended. They are said to give a clean but very excellent entertainment.

Farmer

URIC-O QUICKLY CURED HIM

Treated Two Years with a High-Priced Physician with No Success.

Mr. Frank Howe, a prominent farmer in the town of Van Buren, says: "I visited the best physician in this country, who treated me for about two years for rheumatism. I spent in that time several hundred dollars and seemed to grow worse instead of better each day. Being on crutches and forced to drive to the train and hobbling to the doctor's office became very discouraging, let alone the sleepless nights and fearful hours of pain. Being advised by a friend I purchased Smith's Uric-O prescription, took it home and used it that day as directed.

"Those fearful sciatic pains left me, my blood seemed to let loose and flow freely, I felt different and knew the next morning I had found a cure, as I slept and rested well all that night, something I had not done before in two years. I used in all six bottles of Uric-O and have never felt a return of the disease, had no use for crutches or cane since the first day's treatment.

I have since recommended Uric-O to hundreds of friends and acquaintances and in every instance it gave remarkable relief. To every person who suffers from Rheumatism I say, take Uric-O at once and your suffering will soon end.

FRANK HOWE, Baldwinsville, N. Y. Anyone who doubts Mr. Howe's experience is invited to write him for further details.

The manufacturers have so much confidence in the remedy that they will gladly give a large 75c bottle of Uric-O free to all Rheumatics who have never used it and are looking for a permanent, lasting cure for this most distressing disease. Address for free trial, Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Uric-O is sold and personally recommended in Bedford by F. W. Jordan. May 17-21.

DAZZLING ILLUMINATION

Vessel and Harbor Display of Opening Night Unequaled.

Norfolk, Va.—There have been many fierce conflicts upon the waters of Hampton Roads but the fire of belching cannon and hissing, bursting shell—the deadly combat between the Monitor and the Merrimack in 1862—was nothing compared with the scene enacted on these historic waters on the night of April 26, 1907. The burning of Rome, the destruction of the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum were no doubt grand, but they were also terrible. The scene upon Hampton Roads was grand beyond the power of pen to describe, while it was absolutely devoid of the terrible.

Placidly lying at anchor on Hampton Roads when the sun went down on the evening of the 26th of April, were American and foreign war vessels, in solid but friendly phalanx, covering a distance of not less than 10 miles. As darkness settled over the face of the waters, a few lights flickered here and there, subdued by the silvery moonbeams that fell like a sheen upon the land and sea. The great array of death-dealing, iron-clad monsters were dimly outlined, until, at a given signal about 7:30, every ship blazed forth in lines or electric fire. It was so sudden and so grand that the silence of the thousands upon the waters and shores attested an admiration too deep to be expressed in word or sound.

There they lay, every outline of hull and bridge and deck and funnel and stock lined in living fire. Nothing like it has ever been seen before and, outside of the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition, will probably never be seen again. With the ships in the harbor a blaze of glory and the buildings ashore scarcely less gorgeous, the entire scene was one so grand, so uniquely splendid, that those who saw it will never forget. It was a feature alone and unparalleled in the history of expositions and in the history of the world.

The illumination shore, harbor and vessels, by an element that the wildest scientific dreamer had not conceived when the event occurred that the Ter-Centennial Exposition celebrates, is one incident alone that demonstrates the giant strides that have been made since the Pilgrims landed upon America's shores. The searchlights of the various war vessels time and again shot out their piercing rays, turning into broad daylight the darkest nooks and corners along Hampton Roads, but gorgeous, weird and wonderful as was the illumination on the night of the 26th, it is only the initiative of the greater and grander scenes that will follow when the government piers are finished, and the system of submerged harbor illumination installed. But, as it is, the illumination of the opening night so far eclipsed the most gorgeous pyrotechnic display ever attempted, that there is positively no comparison.

ACHED IN EVERY BONE.

Chicago Society Woman Who Was So Sick She Could Not Sleep, or Eat, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

When a woman's kidneys go wrong, her back gives out and every little task becomes a burden. She is tired, nervous, sleepless, run down—suffers daily from backache, headaches, dizzy spells, and bearing-down pains.

Don't worry over imagined "female troubles." Cure the kidneys and you will be well. Read how to find the cure.

Marion Knight, of 33 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., member of the Chicago Federation of Musicians and a well-known club woman, says: "This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had intense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy, and I could barely eat enough to live. I felt a change for the better within a week. The second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally, and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $5 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Miss Knight will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

Famous Dock Condemned

The old wooden dry dock at the Kittery Navy Yard, which has been in service for 50 years, has been condemned and will be broken up. It cost half a million dollars and at the time of its construction it was the subject of much discussion and efforts were made to have Congress authorize a stone dock instead. It was claimed that the wooden dock of such dimensions would not be safe and that its use would be attended by disaster. It has been vindicated by a long life of usefulness and during the war of the rebellion it was of great service. It has cradled many famous ships.

THE MASK OF HEALTH

Few People Are Really as Well as They Look. Cause and Remedy.

Many people in Bedford, both men and women, who believe themselves to be in perfect health, are often in the greatest danger.

The most common cause of ill health is indigestion, with a myriad of symptoms such as headache, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, pains in the back and side, distress after eating, etc.

In the last few years the success of physicians everywhere with Micon stomach tablets has made them known far and wide as the acknowledged specific for the treatment of stomach diseases. They strengthen the digestive organs so that in a few days the stomach is in such shape that it takes care itself of all the food that is eaten without pain or distress.

F. W. Jordan gives an absolute unqualified guarantee that your money will be refunded unless Micon cures. He takes the whole risk and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures you. May 24-25

A Bonanza

A certain western Congressman has had disastrous experience in gold mine speculations. One day a number of colleagues were discussing the subject when one of them said to the western member:

"Tom, as an expert, give us a definition of the term 'bonanza.'"

"A 'bonanza,'" replied the western man, with emphasis, "is a hole in the ground owned by a champion liar."—Success

DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve does not merely heal on the surface, it penetrates the pores and promptly relieves pain, caused by boils, burns, scalds, cuts and skin diseases. It is especially good for piles. Beware of imitations. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Stationery Styles

Square envelopes are out. The oblong is the favored shape. Note paper measures six inches each way.

The initials no longer occupy the centre top.

Bordered stationery shows a pretty edge of cadet blue, say.

But the latest wrinkle shows a sheer white paper lined with old rose.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time. Ed. D. Heckerman.

To Clean Wall Paper

Oil marks, and marks where people have rested their heads, can be taken off the paper on walls by mixing pipe-clay with water, to the consistency of cream, laying it on the spot, and letting it remain 24 hours, when it may be easily removed with a case-knife or brush.

In the treatment of piles it becomes necessary to have the remedy put up in such a form that it can be applied to the parts affected. Mar Zan Pile remedy is encased in a collapsible tube with nozzle attached. It cannot help but reach the spot. Relieves blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, 50c with nozzle guaranteed. Try it. Sold at Irvine's Drug Store.

Washing Day Wrinkles

When hanging clothes to dry, first hang up by the thickest part—waist or neckband, etc.—because if hung by the thinner part the water would run into the thick part, lodge there and take longer to dry. Secondly, hang up everything wrong side out, so that any accidental soiling will not do so much damage as if it appeared on the right side.

Proper Way of Broiling Ham

The breakfast "fried" ham would be quite a different dish if prepared in this way: Select slices, cut one-fourth an inch in thickness, from the center of a choice ham. Pour boiling water over the slices of ham, drain and wipe dry, then broil over a bed of not too fierce coals about five minutes. Spread lightly with butter and sprinkle with fine-chopped parsley.

Handkerchief Belts

These are the latest contrivances for girdling the feminine waist.

They are made, as the name indicates, out of a big square handkerchief of soft silk, folded three corners to a crush belt width. At the buckle the ends are pulled out in fan shape, one pointing up and one down.

Some have plain centers, with gay borders, the gayety showing only at the pulled out ends in front. Others are gay all over, and these make very showy belts indeed.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Spring Winds chap, tan and cause freckles to appear. Pinesalve Carbolyzed applied at night will relieve that burning sensation. Nature's own remedy Acts like a poultice and draws out inflammation. Sold by Irvine's Drug Store.

When your food has not been properly digested the entire system is impaired in the same proportion. Your stomach needs help. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Everyone knows that Spring is the season of the year when the system needs cleansing. Dade's Little Liver Pills are highly recommended. Try them. Sold by Irvine's Drug Store.

Mrs. S. Joyce, 180 Sullivan St., Clemons, N. Y., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It cured me of a severe case of Kidney trouble of several years' standing. It certainly is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." Ed. D. Heckerman.

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. If they are clogged with impure blood, the action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, nausea, dyspepsia, and thus preventing the Sarsaparilla from doing its best work. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a liver pill. Act gently, all vegetables. This does it only one pill at bedtime.

IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

One of the most interesting features in traveling from San Francisco to San Diego is the old mission buildings of California lying broken and deserted in the endless sunshine beneath a matchless sky. Perhaps the undefined thing which we cannot understand about these missions is the secret of their great success, combined with that of their total failure.

Southern California, in a state of nature is a land of nooks and corners. In these nooks the original Spaniard seems very generally to have nestled. The peace, which to some degree, may come in life was never in this world nearer its idealization than at San Juan Capistrano three-fourths of a century ago. It cannot be put into words or painted or sent by mail, but something of it broods there still; men cannot make it or entirely destroy it. It is in the air, and to supplement it and add to it, is the feeling that the past has not yet quite gone away. The dust lies thick in the village streets and in it one almost looks to find the prints of sandals.

There is a quiet beauty often hovering over decay and ruin and no locality is so subject to such a spell as an old church. The quaintness to American eyes, of what remains, cannot well be put into words. We never made anything like it and never shall. We have never, in a single instance, come as nearly as these missionary monks did to the suiting of a building to the surrounding landscape. It is an indefinable thing which cannot be fixed by rule, and one does not know wherein precisely the appropriateness consists. It fits its place among the vastnesses of wilderness that can never be really changed by any effort of civilization. But when you are gone again, if you have seen the country aright, your mental picture will be complete when you remember Capistrano sitting upon its knoll and looking down the glen to its speck of sky-blue sea.

One of the strongest individualities on earth is the Spanish. Amid all the newness of American life he retains his adobe corner unimpaired, alone, apart, separate and unharmed. It is so in Santa Fe or Albuquerque or El Paso, and so, also, in the obscure nook he still retains in the beautiful city, which is, except in name, the very opposite of everything Spanish in Los Angeles itself. Whoever would understand aught of these bygone days which placed on this continent the quaintness of Spanish peasant life, must come quickly if he wishes to judge by that surest index, the homes of the people. Yet the country and simplicity remain, and from nothing greater might we obtain some idea of social life in the California of the old times.

Considering the church alone, the mission of Santa Barbara is perhaps the best preserved of all the establishments of the original Franciscans. Seven or eight of the brethren are gathered here, not as relics or reminders of the eventful past, but simply as friars of their orders, pursuing their own way to the final exchange from brown to white. Here a splendid little city has grown up around her shrine and bears her name. All things that were not intended have come, and all that were hoped for are gone. Here have lived and died the dusky generations of whose history or times or thoughts there has been left us not a word or an indication. Surrounded now by all that is new, by the improvements of the world's most restless denizens, by a skill that accomplishes in a single year the results of a Spanish century and an Italian eternity, it is still Santa Barbara mission—abiding in a peace that is held about it by a spell. It is a history strangely mingled with that sunshine and romance which goes everywhere with the Spanish people. The Spanish tongue and faith were here firmly planted amid surroundings so natural that the only difference was that they were better. No land the Spaniard found in all his wanderings suited him and was made for him so nearly as this.

The line of missions was about seven hundred miles long from San Diego northward, they lay contiguous and adjoining; their sites were the most eligible spots of the sunniest land the world knows; their affairs were administered by the Padres with much skill. Seven hundred thousand cattle grazed on the mission pastures with sixty thousand horses and an immense number of other domestic animals. A hundred and twenty thousand bushels of wheat were raised annually, besides all other crops. Gardens, vineyards and orchards surrounded or were contiguous to all the missions, except the two most northerly ones. The total average annual gains of the missions from sales and trade was more than two million dollars.

The value of the livestock alone was, in 1834, two millions of dollars.

The Spanish government had a theory upon which these missions were established. It was that after ten years the Indians would become citizens, living in agricultural communities on land secured to them, and self-supporting and perhaps prosperous. They intended to use the missions to this end but they lacked every personal surrounding they were intended for. In thirty years or less their converts had become their servants and they themselves were no longer self-denying missionaries. Success was so great that zeal was dismissed, monastic vows were forgotten, prayer and faith became merely forms. During sixty-five years thirty thousand Indians attended church at these twenty-one missions and eighty thousand were buried in the mission cemeteries.

When the heroic soul of Junipero Serra departed at Monterey in 1784, the end for which he had endured and prayed was lost sight of and the humane love of ease and gain arose uppermost in all minds. Thus the briefest history of Southern California developed one of the saddest stories to be found in the annals of Christian endeavor. It was a work wrought almost in vain; there was no result and the doom of a race sealed by the efforts to civilize and save them. The Indians of the missions existed in great numbers sixty years ago. What has become of them numerically is a question often asked but never answered. If there are diaries, journals, personal narratives, hints, descriptions, they are lost. There seemed to be in the minds of some of the Priests a tinge of regret, not that they are gone, but that they ever came.

There still hovers about the California missions an atmosphere which all the winds cannot blow away, which is unique in American life and of which these ruins seem to afford the only taste. Let the visitor to California remember carefully perhaps, yet still remember that about him lie the ruins of that time which is the connecting link between a past so remote that above it hangs a mist which is like the purple veil of the California hills, and that wonderful present which is so unlike all the past. The founders of these missions looked far into the future, but they could not read fate and there was nothing else to read. A. Decker.

Linon Gowns Are Now the Vogue

"There are so many different styles in the linen gowns this summer that this fact may be regarded as an important new feature of the season's modes," writes Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for June. "There are linen gowns suitable for almost every occasion, and some of them, with their combinations of Irish lace and artistic embroideries, are quite as elaborate as the silk frocks. The linen frock with the jumper waist having the large armhole and the skirt with fan plaits, is a very charming model, and will look well made up in any of the fancy linens. A scalloped edge finishes both the opening of the waist and the skirt which is in the front. "Many of the most fashionable of the hot-weather gowns are made of linen in dark shades. A dark blue linen is used for the gown, which has the waist band-trimmed and made with a vest, and the skirt plaited and cut in seven gores. Lawn tucking in white or pale tan is used for the vest and the cuffs. The linen bands which trim the gown may match the tucking or be introduced in a shade darker."

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours, as a sediment or something indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stands clear, your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

a band of predatory Indians in direction of Frankstown. He had mentioned to Nixon a dream he had that impressed his mind with the idea that he was to be taken by the Indians, and that he had made up his mind to fight to the death rather than be captured by them. Nixon advised him, in case of a hopeless attack, to save his life by submitting to captivity, assuring him that he and his other friends would pursue and rescue him. The party met and had a fight with the savages defeating them, after which the whites discovered that Henry was missing. Search was instantly begun for him and finally his dead body was found propped against a large tree, most shamefully mutilated and surrounded by the bodies of five dead savages. The cut and scarred bark of the tree and the trampled and bloody ground bore evidence of the resolute struggle in which he resigned his life. His body was brought to Fort Bedford and buried in the Calvinist and Lutheran grave-yard.

30 DAYS' TREATMENT FOR $1.00

LETTER TO REV. M. L. CULLER
Bedford, Pa.

Rev. Sir: We should like to ask your advice on a certain thing done: was it right or wrong? We shall have to state it, including the names.

D F Dreicorn is a painter in Holyoke, Mass. John J Donohue is an architect, Springfield, near-by.

Donohue was building, at Holyoke, the Holy Family Institute, letting the work by bids, as usual. Dreicorn got the paint job; the paint was to be lead-and-oil.

But Dreicorn said to himself: "lead-and-oil isn't half so good as Devoe and it costs more money, what shall I do?" He painted Devoe; and, after the work was done, told Donohue, saying: "if that isn't better than any lead-and-oil job, I'll make it so."

Was Dreicorn right or wrong in painting a lead-and-oil job Devoe? You ask how it turned out. This was six years ago. Now Donohue has another job there, a big addition to the Catholic Hospital; and he doesn't ask bids for the painting, but says to Dreicorn: "Go ahead Dreicorn and give me as good a job as you did on the Institute. That's the best paint job I ever saw."

The question is "Was Dreicorn right in painting Devoe when he had agreed to paint lead-and-oil?" That isn't quite all. Lead-and-oil is expected to last three years. If Dreicorn had used lead-and-oil, there would have been another job for him or somebody else three years ago.

Was he right in losing that job for himself or somebody else three years ago? The Institute took 200 gallons Devoe and cost $1,000; the paint has worn six years, when Donohue says "it's the best paint job he ever saw." If he had used lead-and-oil, it would have cost about $2200 for the two paint jobs (six and three years ago) and be hungry for paint again.

Dreicorn lost $1200 of business and took the risk of making Donohue mad and losing his business, forever, all to save the Holy Family Institute $1200 besides the fuss of a paint job.

Was Dreicorn right or wrong as a painter; and which would you paint your church, lead-and-oil or Devoe? Yours truly

Are You Wearing a
Moneybak Dress?

The satisfaction that comes of wearing a good black silk gown is complete. There may be other gowns—vari-colored, richly trimmed, very showy and all that, but the black silk, superb, elegant, refined, dignified, is the queen of the wardrobe, and because of this evident superiority the black silk is indispensable. It must be included else the equipment is incomplete.

We all know, though, that there have been many discouragements for those who liked to have a good black silk dress. The market has been flooded with black silks loaded with chemicals to give them weight. Sixteen ounces of raw silk were loaded so as to make forty-eight ounces of silk. There are millions of yards of silk made annually weighted from one to two hundred per cent. This accounts for the failure of the average black silk—and it opened the way for an honest product, hence the unprecedented success of the famous

Moneybak Black Silks.

These splendid silks have attained a popularity unprecedented in silk annals. The people have been quick to appreciate the importance of an honest, straight, true silk and as a result the black silk dress is again taking its rightful place in the esteem of good dressers.

MONEYBAK BLACK SILKS

Are sold here as follows:

$1.25 per yard

$1.50 per yard

$1.75 per yard

$2.00 per yard

We want to introduce Moneybak Silks to every woman not yet familiar with their merits. We want them to see the silks in the piece, to feel them, to test their strength. Ask to see Moneybak—and if you can't come to the store, send for samples. Don't miss knowing them at all events.

MONEYBAK GUARANTEE

The makers say to us:

Moneybak means that if Moneybak Silk is damaged in any way during the difficult process of reeling, throwing, winding, dyeing, weaving, or finishing, or from any fault of the silk or manufacture, claims for such damages will be paid by us without quibbling.

We say to you:

With every piece of Moneybak we sell we give you a written guarantee, as good as any check we ever signed, which on presentation with a defective piece of Moneybak Silk, will entitle you to the money you paid us—every cent of it, without any embarrassment or humiliation to you, will be cheerfully paid.

We do not know of a fairer, squarer proposition.

It makes Moneybak an absolutely safe silk to buy.

This week we received 50 Rolls Matting—the third shipment this Spring. If you have not already bought—it will pay you to come after these—they are beauties—20, 25, 28, 30 and 35c the yard. Special price by the roll of 40 yards.

Carpets

We are in the midst of one of the greatest Carpet seasons we ever had. That we have done the Carpet business of Bedford county is due to the fact that we have what the trade wants and at the right price. We make, lay and line our Carpets and guarantee our work in every respect.

Get something worth having when you spend your Shoe money. There are lots of "shoddy" Shoes in the market; the high price of leather has led many makers to "take it out of the goods," that is, out of the wearer; you.

We sell Heywood Shoes, $3.50, $3.75, $4.00.
